

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter consist of conclusion and suggestion of designing a novella script entitled “Like or Leave it”

5.1. Conclusion

The author used Sukmadinata's research and methods in the script creation of the novel (2005). For preliminary research, product development, final product and dissemination, a satisfactory final report was received at the stage. First, the author conducted field investigations through literature surveys, observations and interviews, and prepared a product draft as part of the preliminary research. Second, as part of the product development process, the author has conducted limited and extensive field testing. In a limited field test, the author asked an experienced British writer and a designer-like expert on the cover of a book. After correcting various errors based on expert suggestions or comments, the author sought the help of other professionals, including English authors, book publishers, and visual designers. The author touched on the script, story content, cover design, and half-length layout, and finally got the perfect script and half-length version layout. As a result of scientific research, the author is obliged to show his experience to the public.

5.2. Suggestion

The writer suggest that readers of this report do this to one of the references to develop new ideas as they write on their final report about designing the novella script. The writer is also suggesting that readers of the novella can increase their abilities, ideas, and skills to enhance their creativity when creating their own products. Regarding the difficulty found when observing the novella, the author suggests buying a novella from the nearest city so it does not take more time. Then, one more suggestion, read fiction book a lot it really helpful to increase new idea.
