

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter explains the conclusions and suggestions related to the study

5.1 Conclusions

The comic story of “Two Days in Palembang” is written to promote culinary in Palembang, especially Laksan, Lenggang and 8 Jam cake. In writing this story, the writer used two stages: preliminary study and development of the product.

In the process of writing the comic story, information, skill, and opinion from some experts are required. The information about culinary in Palembang and the steps of writing a comic story as well as writing skill are needed to write the comic story. Drawing skill also needed to make the illustrations. When the writer of the comic story does not have the drawing skill, illustrations can be drawn by someone else. To develop this product, the writer required some comments and suggestions from the experts in language and content of comic story. By reading comic book of “Two Days in Palembang” it is hoped that readers read it not only for pleasure but also for getting information about three types of culinary in Palembang.

5.2 Suggestions

Based on the conclusion above, the writer suggests for that the next researchers can make other comic stories about culinary in Palembang because there are still many culinary that are not known by many people. The writer also suggests the next researchers to make comic story until last stages of Research and Development which are final product testing and dissemination to see effectiveness of comic story in promoting culinary in Palembang and also for the next writer of comic books it is better for them not only have writing skill but also drawing skill to make comic books.