

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter, the writer explains about the conclusion and suggestion of the final report.

5.1. Conclusion

When the writer read the definition of short story, steps of writing short story, elements of short story, steps of writing short story, and studied about the research and development method in order to write short story, there are some advantages and disadvantages of writing the short story itself. The advantages are understandable and concise. The steps are applicable for the beginner writer in order to gather information from the writer. On the other hand, the disadvantages are too many ideas to be filtered. The writer had to choose the precise ideas of the story, so that the story would be coherent and easy to understand.

5.2. Suggestion

Based on the research of writing a short story entitled “Red Thread of Fate in Balaputra Dewa” to promote Palembang tourism destinations, the writer would like to give some suggestions for some parties below:

1. For the next writers (students of English Department), the writer has some suggestions below:
 - Gather as many specific themes, ideas, and the story framework to create better story.
 - Be able to ask some successful writers about how they determine the elements of short stories, including how they build chemistry between a couple in a story.
 - Be more creative to choose the word choices of short story, so the short story will be ‘colorful’
 - If the next writers (students of English Department) can make more short stories or other fiction stories about tourism, it will be beneficial for our tourism because it will help the government to promote tourism and increase the number of tourists to visit.

2. Hopefully, for the government of Palembang, they can make an effort such as providing an online library of fiction stories that promote tourism destination in Palembang.