

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter explained the conclusion and suggestion of the final report entitled “Writing Short Story ‘My First Sight and Love’ Through Storial.co”.

1.1 Conclusion

The final product had been done by following the research method developed by Sukmadinata (2005) that consisted of preliminary study, model development, and final product testing and dissemination. In this case, the writer only stopped the work until the revision from wider testing and did not do the product testing and dissemination because of the lack of time, and budget. Based on the writer’s literature study, there were step to write short story by Hasanah (2019 p.10). First is pre-writing, in this step the writer determined the idea. Then, drafting, the writer making the outline of the short story by deciding the elements of short story, such as theme, plot setting, character etc. After that the writer wrote the story from start to finish. Next is reviewing and revising the short story to be a good draft. The writer requested comments and suggestion from some expert in limited and wider testing to make the short story more development. For the contents, comments and suggestions were about characters, point of view, and words choice. For the language, comments and suggestions were about vocabulary, tenses, and punctuation. After getting comments and suggestions, the writer revised it. And then the writer made final correction and rewrite a short story. Finally, the writer produced the short story in book version and published a story on storial.co application, and share to people who liked to read a short story. For the length of short story should be 3000-4000 words it is ideal short story, so that the readers can get the information in the story easily and read at one sitting.

5.2 Suggestion

The writer suggests to the students at English Department to make this final report as one of the references that they can use in developing their own research, especially about short stories in the future because this short story provides entertainment for them.
