

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

This chapter provides the conclusions and suggestions of this final report about Designing PayoPegi.com as a Website about Desa Qur'an RTYD (Rumah Tahfidz Yatim Dhuafa) Palembang.

5.1 Conclusions

In making the product, the writer used the method of Sugiyono (2013). The process to make a product, the writer have 6 steps. There are potential and problems, Data Collection, Product Design, Design Validation, Design Revision, and Product Trials. The writer created a website based on the purpose and nature of the website itself and the potential seen in the object under study. The writer got information in the data collection process through interviews, observations and obtains documentation in the form of media and files needed to support the manufacture of this product. After the information is obtained and analyzed by the writer then the author began to plan what and how the concept will be made. After that, the writer conducted a literature study in creating a website with a simple appearance and a default domain and began to create each menu and sub-menu and their contents. After that the writer provided the website address and asks for advice from experts in the field of web design and accuracy of information. After getting suggestions, the writer began to make improvements and became the final product.

5.2 Suggestions

Based on the research of Promoting Desa Qur'an RTYD Palembang Through PayoPegi.com as a Web Design Plan that has been done, the writer would like to give some suggestions as follows:

1. Desa Qur'an should be more concerned and more enthusiastic in introducing this educational tour to the wider community so that the objectives of the DESA Qur'an (Destinasi Edukasi dan Wisata) Qur'an can be realized.

2. Desa Qur'an tourist destination which is relatively not too wide can be given a solution by accelerating the development of a wider area so that it can accommodate more visitors who will come.
