CHAPTER V
CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Conclusion

Based on the explanation in the previous chapters, the writer concluded that there were several steps in writing video script of Mount Dempo Area by using a method of research and development modified by Sukmadinata (2005) this modified contained of three steps. First, preliminary study consisted of literature study, field survey and model draft. Second, model development consisted of limited testing and wider testing. Last, final product testing contained of final product testing and dissemination. Then, was followed by the stage of script development by Friedman (2006). The first step is a preliminary study that can be cooperated with the idea of script development by Friedman. The ideas are background research and investigation, concept, treatment, and first draft. The second step is model development that is conducted with revision. The writer did limited testing to make the product developed. There were three aspects tasted by four experts in limited testing. The aspects were about the content of video script, linguistics, scriptwriting, grammatical errors, diction, and coherence in English script and design of video. Then, the writer revised the video script. After that, the writer did wider testing. The writer asked the comments and suggestions from three experts about grammatical errors in English script (proofreading) to improve the video script and content of the video. The last step is final product testing which is connected with the final draft. The writer made the video as a final product. The video gives detailed information that is spoken in the English language. The video consists of information about Mount Dempo Area such as the location, the attraction, the activities, the facilities such as accommodation and recommended gift shop in Mount Dempo Area. The duration of the video is around   5minutes.

5.2 Suggestions

      The writer suggested that this final report can be used as a starting point for future research to create another video script about natural tourism destinations, which could be developed by other students at the State Polytechnic of Sriwijaya, particularly those in the English department. In the future, when writing the script or subtitle video, they should pay more attention to the elements in the script, as well as the stages in making the script, so that the message conveyed by the video and script is understood by the viewers. So, researchers can improve this research by studying more sources, references, and research preparations. Furthermore, the writer also would like to recommend that the government pay more attention to tourism, which has the potential to compete in the tourism industry.
