

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Conclusion

In this final report, the blog script entitled “The New Sights of Monpera” can be used as a medium for promoting one of the tourism objects in Palembang, Monpera. It helps the tourists in getting information about Monpera after it was renovated. The writer used the Blogger platform in making the blog. The blog can be accessed at <https://healingseekers.blogspot.com/>. Therefore, a blog is an alternative way to be a promotional medium to promote the new sights of Monpera. The writer used the Research and Development (R&D) method that consisted of three stages in writing the blog script, namely preliminary study, model development and final product testing. The blog contains the information about Monpera such as the history of Monpera, the new sights of Monpera, the operation hours, and the ticket prices.

5.2 SuggestionS

After finishing this final report, the writer would like to provide suggestions in writing a blog script about tourism object as follows.

1. The writer suggests future researchers avoid the repetition sentences or paragraphs in writing a blog script.
2. The writer also suggests future researchers write a blog script with more complete information about Monpera or other tourism objects in Palembang that has been renovated and developed by the government.
