

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1 Conclusion

Internet is a very large library that holds a lot of information in any forms by connection tools/gadget we use to these resources. Public speaking is a skill that is necessary, especially as a student of English Department. Students in English Department using the internet as a medium to deal with public speaking they will do. Internet has a very important role. In this research, 78.5% of respondents agreed that the Internet has a role in improving their public speaking skills, internet help provide information about public speaking to them. Meanwhile, the response of the respondents who disagree is 21.5%. Because, the internet only assist them in finding materials and guidance to be able to do a good and right public speaking.

5.2 Suggestion

Based on the conclusion, the writer suggests to students in English Department, although the internet will help students to find materials to improve public speaking skills that they will do and help provide the information needed. Students must be able to train themselves by practicing what they have learned over and over again in order to relieve their nervousness. So public speaking skills that they learn can be useful and profitable.