(Febriyani Permata Sari, 2017, 60 pages, 6 figures)

Tour Package is an important part of tourism that has the role to make the tourists interesting in going to have a trip. For creating an interesting tour package, the tour agent/ tour guides must provide the activities, facilities and also tourism destination as good as they can with the specific and innovative itinerary. This final report was purposed to support and promote the local tourism destination so it will increase the income of the province. This research is done with the research and development method by doing the observation and interview about the tourism destination and others that needed in a tour package. The population of this research is the local farmers, tourists, coffee plantation, local houses and also the tools of processing and harvesting coffee and the writer used sample to make the research easier because of the limited time, budget, etc. After collecting the data from the observation and interview, the write made a draft model and develop it by discussing with experts. As a result, the writer got the final brochure to promote the harvesting and processing coffee tour package of Empat Lawang.
