(LayanzaInaldaPoetra, 2018, 29 pages, 16 pictures)

The purpose of this final report is to investigate whether Tanjung Kelayang Beach had potential as a tourism destination in Belitung. Using a qualitative method, this report described the tourism phenomena of Tanjung Kelayang Beach in order to know its potential as a tourism destination. The data were collected by using observation and interview. The observation was conducted to the five essential elements of tourism destination as suggested by Spillane (1994:63-72). They were attractions, facilities, infrastructures, transportation, and hospitality industry. The interview was delivered to an information from the Tourism Department in Belitung. The results show that Tanjung Kelayang Beach had potential to be a tourism destination in Belitung. It was because it had the five essential elements of tourism destination. It is suggested that to make Tanjung Kelayang Beach more potential to be tourism destination, it is needed some addition facilities and transportation such as CCTV, ATM, and public transportation.
