ABSTRACT

Making Kojo Cookies as An Innovation of Kojo Cake

(Frisilia Utami, 2019, 28 pages. 3 Pictures, 2 tables and 1chart)

This report discusses about making Kojo cookies as an innovation of Kojo cake. The purpose was to find how to make Kojo cookies. The writer used R &D method. There are three stages of research and development method based on Sukmadinata's theory which are Preliminary study, Model development and Final testing. However, the writer did only two stages which were Preliminary study and Model development. There were two experiments and two revisions. The Kojo cookies product of the first experiment was tasted and examined by Mr. I Gede and the Kojo cookies product of the second experiment was tasted by five respondents. The result indicated that there were nine steps in making Kojo cookies and there were nine kinds of ingredients of Kojo cookies. Indeed, the proportional recipe from the last experiment of Kojo cookies had been designed in a simple recipe in chapter IV.

ABSTRACT

Membuat Kojo Cookies Sebagai Sebuah Inovasi dari Kue Kojo

(Frisilia Utami, 2019, 28 Halaman, 3 Gambat, 2 Tabel and 1 Grafik)

Laporan ini membahas tentang membuat kue Kojo sebagai sebuah inovasi dari kue Kojo. Tujuannya adalah untuk menemukan cara membuat kue Kojo. Penulis menggunakan metode R&D. Ada tiga tahap penelitian dan pengembangan berdasarkan teori Sukmadinata yaitu studi pendahuluan, pengembangan model dan pengujian akhir. Namun, penulis hanya melakukan dua tahap yakni studi pendahuluan dan pengembangan model. Penulis mendapatkan informasi tentang kelebihan cookies, karakteristik cookies, dan beberapa pertimbangan dalam membuat cookies. Dalam pengembangan model, ada tiga percobaan yang dilakukan oleh penulis. Hasil dari percobaan ketiga menunjukkan bahwa untuk membuat Kojo cookies diperlukan sembilan jenis bahan dan terdapat sembilan tahapan.

Keyword: Kojo cookies, kue Kojo , Palembang traditional cake.
