

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents the conclusion of designing a novella entitled “Love Does” and the suggestion for the purpose of the novella.

5.1 Conclusion

From the observation and interview that has been conducted by the writer, it can be concluded that designing novella can be used as a medium to introduce tourism destinations in Palembang since novella as one of writing fictions is a good persuasive communication and can give a unique competitive advantage and a more meaningful experience to the places where the fictive story takes place. By reading the novella readers do not only enjoy the story, but also acquaint to tourism destinations in Palembang. So, the novella can both amuse the readers and give information to readers about the tourism destinations in Palembang.

5.2 Suggestion

The writer expected the readers will be interested in reading this novella of which setting places are tourism destinations in Palembang. Also, the writer hoped this novella could be a good medium to introduce tourism destinations in Palembang. By reading the novella, the writer hoped that the readers are interested in knowing and visiting tourism destinations in Palembang that are used as the setting place of the novella.