

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1 Conclusion

Making a storybook can be preserved of the continuity of folklore as a nation's culture. Storybook with picture increase the reading interest. Because it contains not only the story script but also shows the illustration image that can make the reader enjoy reading the book. Based on the research and discussion of the findings presented previously, it can be concluded that in designing a storybook about the Legend of Ulak Lia Lake the writer arranged the product draft first, then the draft model was developed and then tested in two steps that were limited testing and wider testing, after the testing finished, finally the final product a bookstory entitled "The Legend of Ulak Lia" created. Through this storybook, it also can promote folklore from various regions especially in South Sumatera that are still not widely known. The storybook Legend of Ulak Lia Lake consists of 12 pages and it is delivered in English.

5.2 Suggestion

Based on the result of this final report. The writer would like to give suggestion to the Cultural Department of South Sumatera to pay attention on folklore as one of Indonesian culture by putting all folklores from each region into a book, so that the folklore is not to be forgotten as the times developed.

And the writer hopes, the next researchers can design storybook better. And this final report can be a reference to help them get the data and information.
