

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1. Conclusion

Based on the explanation on the previous chapter, it can be concluded that the use of technology with language makes it easy for someone to learn a new language. One of them is the emergence of subtitle features on YouTube. As we all know that YouTube is one of the most popular social media platforms. So by using the advantages of YouTube we can reach more viewers. Short films are one type of content in YouTube that is pretty much in demand or watched. By watching the short film, viewers not only enjoy the story but the viewers can get the lesson from the story and also because there are English subtitle, the viewers can also learn English using YouTube.

The writer used Research and Development (R&D) by Sukmadinata (2005). This method is divided into three steps: a preliminary study, model development, and final testing. In Model development step, the writer asked three experts for three aspects such as linguistic, content, and script writing. After that, the writer gave the script to those experts, then, the experts gave the comments and suggestion to the script. So that, the writer following the experts' suggestion to improve the script.

5.2. Suggestion

There are two suggestions in this final report first to the younger generation because the era of the Industrial Revolution 4.0 and digitalization have arrived and cannot be avoided. Fast paced and demanding human resource skills become a necessity that must be prepared for all components, especially the younger generation of Indonesia. Indonesia youth must be optimistic about the future. One key is to be creative.

Second, regarding to the limitation in publishing this video in two languages, it is expected in the future that this video will be published in other international languages like mandarin, Arabic, French or Spain. So, that other foreigner who speak in those languages but cannot understand English will be able to watch it.